Course Description:

Explores current environmental issues and challenges in the US-Mexico border, and provides the foundation for understanding the current social welfare system and the ways that social services have developed in the United States. This historical perspective helps students understand how social work can influence, and be influenced by, social welfare policy. Students will gain an understanding of the various roles social workers have and the settings in which they practice. Includes social work interventions of practice, policy, and research and the knowledge, values ethics, and skills underpinning the practice of social work with diverse populations, with special emphasis on Native American cultures. Special emphasis on the practice of social work in the context of Southwest cultural and ethnic traditions.

Course Objectives:

1. Apply critical thinking skills within the context of professional social work practice.
2. Comprehend the value base of the profession and its ethical standards and principles, and practice accordingly.
3. Understand the forms and mechanisms of oppression and discrimination and apply strategies of advocacy and social change that advance social and economic justice.
4. Practice without discrimination and with respect, knowledge and skills related to client's age, class, color, culture, disability, ethnicity, family structure, gender, marital status, national origin, race, religion, sex, and sexual orientation.
5. Demonstrate understanding of the history of the social work profession along with contemporary structures and issues.
6. Apply the knowledge and skills of generalist social work practice with systems of all sizes while exhibiting effective practice in a range of professional social work roles.

Course Structure:
This course is structured based on both lecture and question and answers. One of the best skills a social worker (or anyone in helping fields) can gain is the ability to ask questions. Indeed, this skill comes right after knowing how to truly attend and listen to someone’s problem and needs. Therefore this class requires that the students engage in questions and answers with the instructor.

Texts and Materials:
Readings will be assigned throughout the course by the instructor. For definitions and information that students need more information on, or need more information beyond lecture and classroom learning activities can be found in the following required textbook:

Additional all papers and written material for this course must conform to APA style format. If students are not familiar with this writing style they are strongly encouraged to visit the following website for further learning material on APA format.

Himdag Cultural Component:

For this course the Himdag will focus on the for T-So:son in order to understand how one’s values play a role in the helping fields. Additionally the T-So:son should be seen not only as personal values one should follow but as practice values. In order to be a good practitioner and person must understand what they believe (T-Wohocudadag) when it comes to helping others, and be willing to accept and understand the beliefs and values the person who they are helping holds to be true. A good practitioner should have a deep understanding of the self in order to able to respect and help others (T-Pi:k Elida). A practitioner must take care of themselves in order to take care of others (T-Apedag). Finally practitioners must understand that problems are not solved in isolation, especially problems of communities (ex. Poverty, suicide, and addiction). We must be willing to reach out to other groups, organizations, and community entities and willing to develop community approaches to solve the social problems of today (I-We:mta).
